EXCERPT FROM FOREWORD To VOL. XXV - June 1927, Page 4

The Sajjana-toshani thus finds herself in a position to cease her Bengali garb now on the appearance of the Gaudiya and array herself in English to make her appeals to the world at large.

This is in accordance with the desire of Mahaprabhu, as He gave vent to proselytism. He did not limit His message to any narrow sect. On the contrary, His message is for the whole living world including be it remembered the world of animals and plants. For the purpose of spreading His message of the Divine Love He employs an infinite army of followers.

A Passage in the Chaitanya Bhagabata, (Life of Sree Chaitanyadeva by Thakur Brindavandas) clearly records the desire of Mahaprabhu: "My name will be preached everywhere in all the villages and towns of the whole world." The Harmonist seeks to carry out this desire of the Lord. For the present, She is appearing in English, Sanskrit and Hindi. But She does not by any means desire to confine herself to these languages only. The Lord desires His word to be preached to all living beings. The Harmonist stands for this desire. She cherishes the faith that a day will come when His Word will be preached everywhere all over the world through the medium of all the languages including the language of animals and plants when this will be practicable. She believes that Gaurasundar will in the fullness of time raises up fit preachers in every part of the world and in numbers amply sufficient for His Purpose. This is the message of The Harmonist.
